

Stay the green course

The Province

Thu Apr 15 2010

Page: A44

Section: Money

Column: Business Briefs

Dateline: OTTAWA

Source: News Services

The recent recession has not dampened the importance Canadians place on businesses conducting their operations in an environmentally sustainable way, a new survey done by research group Ifop North America shows. Ninety-one per cent saw sustainable business practices as at least as important now as before the recession, and 19 per cent said they are now even more important.

Edition: Final

Story Type: Business; Brief

Length: 58 words

Idnumber: 201004150059

Tone: Neutral

Ad Value: $585 Circulation: 145,836